Job & Career Connections would like to invite you to attend our annual Employment & Education Fairs. To prepare for the fairs, review which employers are registered that you may be interested in applying for positions with. Students and job seekers can view registered employers online at www.myinterfase.com/pierce\_ctc/student. From this site you can find links to each employer's website, contact information, and positions recruiting for. Researching each employer you are interested in and coming to the fairs knowledgeable about the business you are applying with will help you stand out from the crowd. Plus it's free for job seekers!

Now is a great time to start working on a resume or updating the resume you already have. Stop by Job & Career Connections to work with a staff member. We are available from 8-11 for walk-ins or call 253-964-6265 for an appointment in the afternoon. If you haven't had the chance to stop in at Job & Career Connections before the Employment & Education Fairs, WorkSource will have a resume review table at the fairs. There is also some good information on resumes in our last edition of the Job & Career Connections Newsletter, Winter Edition 1. Past newsletters can be found at the following link: <https://www.pierce.ctc.edu/workforce-connections>.

Not looking for a job? The Employment & Education Fair is still for YOU. Attending jobs fairs early in your education connects you with recruiters who can answer questions about your career pathway and provide insights that may change which courses you choose. These events can also lead to possible internships, job-shadowing, informational interviews, volunteer opportunities, and more!

Print out our flyer for the Employment & Education fairs as a reminder or to share with friends. We've included it as a second attachment with this edition of the newsletter.

Did you know we have an easy-to-use, accessible, and free career assessment tool available to all Pierce College District students? This tool is called WOIS and includes career information and tools you can use to see if a particular career is a good fit for you.

Found at www.wois.org, this career information system can be easily accessed from any computer on campus. The site can also be accessed from off-campus by using a special code that is available through our Workforce department. Contact any of the Workforce staff on the left for more information.

First, WOIS is a great tool for finding out what you like to do and how that fits into an already established career pathway. By starting with the Career Interest Survey you can begin building an online portfolio that reflects your career plans and contains all the career information you need to proceed on your pathway.

Second, use the tool to investigate the different careers that are recommended to you. Information is updated constantly by the WOIS web team and represents the latest information available in each industry.

Once you've found a career pathway that interests you, you are able to use WOIS to explore the different educational pathways you can take to reach your ultimate goal: a career you love that will last you a lifetime.

Also, from now until April 20th, WOIS is accepting applications for their annual scholarship. If you are interested in pursuing the scholarship contact Diana Baker or Denise Green as soon as possible so you can get started on your application. The application has to be endorsed by the Pierce College Workforce Development department, so make sure you leave yourself plenty of time to get this done.

WOIS is a great resource available to you that will help you determine the career pathway that is right for you. Learning and career development are a lifelong pursuit and we hope that WOIS gives you the tools to succeed in that pursuit.
